RED TOKEN POINT ISSUE CUT

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—OPA Administrator Chester Bowles today ordered 85 per cent of all meats taken off rationing at midnight tonight, retaining point values only for beef steaks and beef roasts.

The OPA chief declined to speculate upon how long the action would remain in effect, except to state that point values will not be restored to these meats unless absolutely necessary.

Consequently, the OPA announced that only half as many red ration points will be allotted to housewives. Previously, OPA had validated 30 red points every two weeks. Beginning next Sunday OPA will validate 30 red points every four weeks.

KO Nazi Rails For Invasion

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Rail targets in Western Europe have been bombed so effectively for the last two months that the lines in northern France and Belgium are no longer capable of bearing the peak load necessary for the Germans to repel invasion, a ministry of economic warfare spokesman said today.

He spoke as the air invasion from Britain was under comparative lull although Italy-based Allied planes had struck heavily at Genoa and other harbors and at rail lines in northern and central Italy. Mosquitoes from Britain dumped two-ton bombs on the German chemical center of Leverkusen overnight.

The ministry spokesman said no freight yard between Cologne and the Bay of Biscay in a zone 100 miles deep was capable of forming trains, and that only military and coal traffic could be handled.

He said 14-year-old boys, women and one-armed former soldiers were being used by the Germans to run the trains.

The Mosquitoes dropped many 400-pound blockbusters on Leverkusen, which lies just north of Cologne and is the home of one of the largest chemical works in Europe, employing 20,000 workers. The Acheres railway yards in France also were hit by Mosquitoes as British heavy bombers remained idle for the first time in seven nights.

Besides Genoa, second only to Marseilles as an important Mediterranean port, the southern arm of the Allied air effort also struck at Piacenza, north Italian road junction, in an extension of the widespread assaults made yesterday.

The German radio said at noon today there were "no enemy aircraft over the Reich." An hour earlier, it had announced single aircraft were over southwest Germany. At 3 p. m. the German radio announced for a second time that single enemy raiders were over Germany.)

DOWN 5 NAZI PLANES

If American heavy bombers remain idle during the day it will be the first time in the last 10 days for the British-based four-engine daylight raiders. They have hit the continent 14 days out of the past 18.

Allied intruders swept over the continent as far as Munich and shot down five German planes. Four of them were downed by one Canadian Mosquito crew, setting a record for this type of night operation.

An air ministry communique said mines also were strewn in enemy waters and that no Allied planes were missing.

The north Italian naval base of La Spezia was also bombed yesterday for the fourth time in as many days.

Mosquito pilots back from the Leverkusen raid said all the town's defenses opened up as the bombers swept up over the clear weather.

"Many of us were carrying 4000 pounders and as we made our bombing run I could see them exploding among flashes of the anti-aircraft guns," one said. "Fires soon sprang up. I could still see them more than 60 miles away."

CIO Row Shuts Ford of Canada

WINDSOR, Ont., May 3 (AP)—Giant plants of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada were idle again today following a mass meeting at which members of the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO) voted last night to halt work until satisfactory settlement is reached on a dispute over grievance procedure.

The new shutdown came only three days after work had resumed following a 10-day stoppage which resulted from a similar dispute.

Picket lines again were established and men coming on the mid-night shift made no attempt to enter.

One thousand office workers, also members of the union, who had not taken part in the previous walkout, refused to cross the picket line and union spokesmen said they would remain out in sympathy.

The work stoppage, which began April 20, apparently had been settled last week-end on the basis of terms drawn up by the National Wartime Labor Relations Board.

Union officials, however, expressed dissatisfaction with the board's recommendations for grievance procedure, and the mass meeting was called. The stoppage decision, however, was opposed by Roy England, president of Local 200 of the union, while a telegram from George Burt, Canadian director of the U. A. W., from Chicago said the international board wished the men to return to work.

The mass meeting last night was among the largest the union has ever held, the union asserting that 10,000 attended.

DAGENHAM, England, May 3 (AP)—Approximately 3500 workers at the Ford plant here were on strike today in a dispute involving the discharging of a shop steward.

The stoppage began among foundrymen of the night shift. Day workers entered the factory, but stood by their machines.

Burning Ships Light Sevastopol

MOSCOW, May 3 (AP)—The Germans have raised a thick curtain of artillery fire around Sevastopol with all the artillery they were able to save in their retreat through the Crimea, Pravda reported today.

Numerous anti-aircraft guns were reported assembled there by the enemy.

The dispatch described the Sevastopol night sky as a "sea of light," with millions of flares over the bays and flames from burning German transports rising from the sea.

Pravda said the Red air force was pounding enemy positions with small biplanes from low altitude.

The dispatch said the Germans persisted in attacks southeast of Stanislavov in Old Poland.

Mussolini's Train Attacked by Italians

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—The Algeris radio quoted a Geneva dispatch today as saying that the train taking Benito Mussolini back to northern Italy after his recent conference with Adolf Hitler in Germany had been attacked near Bolzano by a group of Italian partisans.

The partisans disabled the locomotive and delayed Mussolini for two hours, said the broadcast.

Balkan Thrust Worries Nazis

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—New Allied offensive operations in the Mediterranean in conjunction with the anticipated invasion of western Europe were forecast today by the Germans, who were reported reinforcing their defenses on the Dalmatian coast to meet a possible thrust into the Balkans.

In a broadcast from Berlin, a German military commentator declared that large movements of Allied troops and supplies observed in southern Italy "indicate the two armies (Fifth and Eighth) intend to launch a fresh attack."

The Germans intimated they expected this attack to coincide with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion assault from the west and a renewal of the Russian drive from the east.

As for the main invasion from the west, Nazi broadcasters still are filling the European air with unsupported guesses and theories as well as high-flown "interpretations" for their own people.

One German commentator, Lieut.-Gen. Kurt Dittmar, conceded that the Allies had certain advantages—including "wide traffic lanes of the sea offering many chances to spring surprises, the fire power of a superior fleet and superior air forces."

As the invasion hour approaches, Transocean, German propaganda agency, quoted a Romanian correspondent in Berlin today as saying:

"People in Germany are asking whether there does not exist a last-minute chance for Germany and Britain to come to an understanding."

There was no disposition here to regard the German broadcast seriously. It might well be designed to persuade the Germans themselves that the Allies were going ahead with invasion plans despite German efforts to make a peace, when actually there were no such efforts.

A dispatch by Louis Neven, AP correspondent in Madrid, says Pierre Laval's Vichy French regime has put the finishing touches on its preparations to meet the expected Allied western offensive by telling Frenchmen they are bound by the armistice with Germany to treat the Allies as invaders.

If French soil is "occupied by invaders," Vichy said, the actions of all public servants must be governed by the Hague convention, according to the terms of which "French authorities must not only forbid any French participation in battle, but also must abstain from any co-operation with invasion forces, establishing only indispensable relations for the protection of local French interests."

Other measures warned civil servants against leaving their posts at the time of invasion and gave department prefects complete charge of their regions in the event they were cut off from Vichy.

Wipe Out Nazi Gains in Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 3 (AP)—A German attack in the Garigliano sector on the west flank of the Allied line across Italy succeeded in making slight penetrations yesterday, but these were quickly wiped out.

Brisk patrol clashes were reported on the Anzio beachhead, one southeast of Carroceto and another southwest of Cisterna.

Allied forces who raided enemy-held Cerreto Alto on the extreme right flank of the beachhead perimeter returned with the information a village on the nearby coast apparently had been evacuated by the enemy.

War in the Pacific Today

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

A mighty American naval force, roaming the South Pacific seas unchallenged by the Japanese navy, has run its string of air victories to 232 enemy planes destroyed in a little more than a week by smashing Japan's stronghold in the Carolines, Truk atoll, with one of the heaviest blows of the Pacific war.

An 800-ton blast by carrier-based planes wrecked Truk's defenses and destroyed 60 parked planes. Sixty-six more Jap aircraft were shot down during raids Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

On the preceding week-end, the same task force supported Sixth Army invasion forces at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and accounted for 106 Japanese planes.

Truk's satellite bases at Satawan and Ponape in the Eastern Carolines were bombed and big guns from battleships and cruisers added their heavyweight explosives to the assault.

Not a warship was damaged and air losses were confined to 30 fighters missing, the Navy said.

In the Southwest Pacific, Allied headquarters issued a special statement claiming the sinking of 1727 Japanese coastal vessels, barges, schooners and sailing craft and damaging 3548 other small craft since April 1942.

The statement commented that this anti-barge campaign has had the effect of "paralyzing enemy efforts to supply, reinforce or evacuate the 17th and 18th (Japanese) armies cut off and surrounded in New Guinea, New Britain, New Ireland and the Solomons."

MacArthur's communique today told of the destruction of 20 enemy barges off the New Guinea coast, and of air raids on Rabaul, New Britain, Woleai in the Caroline Islands, and the Schouten Islands in Dutch New Guinea.

Loyang, one of China's oldest cities and six times its capital, is threatened by Japanese columns driving west along the Lunghai railroad. One column is reported less than 35 miles from the city, following the enemy break-through at Hualo Pass.

Bus Strike Threatens So. Shore

Officials of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. scheduled emergency conferences today with heads of the carmen's union in Quincy in an effort to avert a strike of more than 100 bus and street car operators, due to start at 5 a. m. Saturday, following a pay dispute.

SUIT THREATENED—Academy Award winner Jennifer Jones today was threatened with a law suit for her failure to report to work on April 24. A spokesman for her studio, 20th Century-Fox, said he was considering filing a suit for $45,000 damages against her.

Should the walkout be staged as threatened, more than 40,000 workers using street cars and buses to reach their jobs at the Quincy and Hingham shipyards would be deprived of transportation.

Union leaders said the strike was voted by Eastern Mass. employees because the company refused to pay the wages of a bus driver who fell ill on duty and was unable to work three days last week.

Unless the management agrees to give the driver his sick leave pay, the "work stoppage" will commence Saturday as voted, Pres. John Walsh of the union said. In addition to Quincy and Hingham, Weymouth, Milton, Brockton, Braintree and Holbrook would suffer loss or curtailment of bus service, if the strike occurs.

Wife Slayer Waits R. I. Retrial Ruling

PROVIDENCE, May 3—His request for a new police investigation of his case denied by Gov. J. Howard McGrath, Richard E. Blood, 47, convicted wife slayer, today awaited a decision by Superior Judge Walter Curry on his appeal for a new trial. Blood is scheduled to be sentenced Friday.

Under arrest since 1940, Blood was convicted of second degree murder in the slaying of his young wife, Muriel, but was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court. Convicted at the second trial he took another appeal.

HOW DRAFT LOOKS

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Predicting that upwards of half a million men under 26 now holding occupational draft deferments will be inducted this year, Rep. Costello (D.) of California said today Selective Service should need "few, if any, fathers over 26 this year."

Costello, chairman of a House military subcommittee on draft deferments, said 1,100,000 men under 26 are deferred because of employment on farms or in essential industry.

In addition, he said, revised Selective Service figures show that on April 1 there were approximately 750,000 non-fathers in Class 1-A, available for induction.

"Their own figures show that Selective Service just won't need fathers over 26 this year unless there are unexpected setbacks on the fighting fronts," Costello declared in an interview.

The needs of the armed services during the rest of 1944, Costello said, are for 1,385,000 men, of whom 400,000 are needed to bring the Navy up to quota strength, and the others for placement in the Army and Navy.

Here's how Costello pictured the draft situation for this year:

Men over 26: Few, if any, will be taken; most of those inducted from this group will be single men, who number 750,000 out of the total of 2,225,000 men of all ages in 1-A on April 1.

Men under 26 (regardless of marital status): almost half the 1,100,000 holding occupational and agricultural deferments will be inducted; this group, Costello said, "is going to be hard hit, because the armed services need these younger men."

To meet this year's requirements of 1,385,000 men, Costello used these figures: 540,000 becoming 18 this year; 425,000 to 450,000 from the group under 26 now deferred because of occupation; 375,000 to 420,000 non-fathers now in 1-A.

"On the basis of these figures," he said, "the Selective Service manpower position is very good, and if they handle it properly there should be few fathers over 26 needed."

Loot Summer St. Store of $4500

Thieves hurled a paving brick through a glass door pane of the Ace Luggage and Jewelry store, Summer st., today and stole jewelry valued at more than $4500.

Included in the haul were 24 watches which had been repaired and hung on the wall.

From showcases the thieves took three trays of rings, 50 watches, 30 bracelets and a number of earrings, selecting the more expensive with professional skill, according to police.

Also missing were a small trunk and several overnight bags. Police believed the looters used them for carrying the jewelry and that they escaped in an automobile.

Owner of the store is Mrs. Sylvia Pachter of Commonwealth ave., Brighton.

Girl Kills Dad In Row Over Egg

DETROIT, May 3 (AP)—Jacob Neil, 48-year-old war worker, was shot to death in his suburban Lincoln Park home and police said his 14-year-old daughter, Doris, admitted the killing.

"My father began to criticize the way I was cooking the eggs," Police Chief Floyd M. Crichton said the girl confessed to him.

Hill Ballet Fight Grows

Beacon Hill's battle against the ballet began today as residents of Boston's bastion of the beautified rose in unanimous but dignified wrath at a public hearing in City Hall Annex today to protest the proposal that their sacred slopes should domicile a dancing school.

From top to bottom, Hill residents stood ready to oppose every move of Adolphe Robicheau, dancer and ballet-master, who appealed to the building department for permission to establish a ballet college at 54 Beacon st.

Term it "Terpsichorean Teaching," or appellate it as "Academe de Adagio," it still isn't culture, they claimed. No amount of sylables and no switch in language would make it anything but a dancing school, they argued. And once a dancing school got a foothold, who knows but what the graceful pas de bourree might not give way some day to rug-cutting hotcha and "Love, Love, Love."

CALLS IT "HIGH-TONED"

In a letter to John Codman, secretary of the Beacon Hill Ass'n, Ballet Master Robicheau explained that his school would be extremely "high-toned." But in voting unanimously to fight against an invasion of dancers, association members served notice that the only notes high enough for Beacon Hill come in the carols that are heard on Christmas Eve. And even those are allowed only once a year.

Master Robicheau was forced to seek the building department's permission for his school because the district is zoned for residences only, and thus, a change in the zoning regulations is necessary. The Beacon Hillers pointed out that teaching of the ballet is classified in the regulations as a business enterprise.

Spokesman of the Beacon Hill Ass'n, at today's hearing before the building department board of appeal was Romney Spring, chairman of the zoning committee.

In his petition, the dancing instructor set forth that he planned to teach the ballet to girls between the ages of 6 and 26, but in their opposition, Hill residents, male and female, from 6 until you stop counting, showed today that they already are on their toes.

U. S. Canned Milk Hoard Tainted, All Sales Halted

NEW YORK, May 3 (INS)—The regional office of the War Food Administration today halted all shipments of its huge 45,000,000-pound oversupply of evaporated milk until tests are completed to discover how much of the milk is unfit for human consumption.

The New York WFA had been releasing large quantities of the canned milk to hospitals, schools and charitable institutions when 74 cases of food poisoning in one New York institution were traced to the bad milk.

At the same time, state supervisors for various institutions outside the city are hurriedly checking to discover if any of the tainted milk has found its way into their institutions.

WFA spokesman was at a loss to explain how the milk turned bad. Preliminary investigation failed to show any minute holes in the cans of milk, he said, which might have accounted for bacteria farming in the milk and causing it to curdle. Speculation was that the bacteria was in the milk when it was canned.

The spokesman added any action to resume distribution of the milk must wait the outcome of a meeting of the dairy branch of the WFA in Washington. Tests were expected to be completed sometime next week.

Punish 2 Fliers For Loose Talk

U. S. BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, May 3 (AP)—Two crewmen of an American bomber who were reported to have talked too much before the last attack on Berlin have been grounded and probably will be court-martialed.

Their names were withheld. It was reported that shortly before takeoff time, they were overheard to mention in a place where the conversation might be heard by the wrong people that Berlin was the target.

Mineral Production Declines in Japan

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The Tokyo radio said today that Japanese production of most minerals essential to the manufacture of steel and steel alloys fell short of the 1943 quotas set by the government.

The broadcast, recorded by U. S. government monitors, said only the production of manganese ore exceeded the quota and that was by 2 per cent.

WFA May Boost Price on Eggs

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The War Food Administration is expected to announce soon an increase of from one to two cents a dozen in its spring season buying prices for some classes of eggs.

The WFA may also offer a premium of one cent a dozen on shell eggs treated with preservative coatings.

Sen. Pepper

Sen. Hill

Pepper, Hill Win; Dewey Gains More

By the Associated Press

Administration forces beat back their Democratic critics in Florida and Alabama senatorial primaries while Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York gathered in more convention support today for the Republican presidential nomination.

Senator Lister Hill, Democratic whip, was renominated in Alabama and Senator Claude Pepper ran up a substantial lead in his five-way contest for renomination in Florida. Both men are Administration stalwarts and both were opposed by vigorous critics of many of President Roosevelt's policies.

Support of the President figured as a side issue in another senatorial primary, in South Dakota where Republican Senator Chan Gurney won renomination despite opposition claims that he had "adopted much of the New Deal philosophy."

DEWEY'S TOTAL 239

It was in South Dakota that Governor Dewey picked up 11 additional convention votes. A slate favoring the New Yorker defeated one supporting Lieut.-Comdr. Harold E. Stassen by a margin of about 3 to 2.

This brings Dewey's total of pledges or claimed delegates to 239, with 530 needed to nominate at the Chicago convention.

Sen. Hill defeated James A. Simpson, Birmingham attorney, for renomination by 97,618 to 77,230 with only 542 of the state's 2310 boxes, or precincts unreported. Alabama chose 24 unpledged delegates.

Sen. Pepper was making a strong fight to sidestep a run-off on May 23 which would be necessitated if he failed to win more than 50 per cent of the votes in the preferential. Pepper had four opponents. With 858 precincts counted out of 1496, the incumbent had 112,178 while the combined total of his opponents were 104,212. His nearest competitor Judge J. Ollie Edmunds, had 72,750.

571 FOR ROOSEVELT

In South Dakota's Democratic primary all delegate candidates, were fourth term supporters. With their eight votes, there are now 371 pledged or claimed for Mr. Roosevelt. It requires 589 to nominate.

In Arkansas, selection of the State's Republican delegation of 12 was completed but the convention turned down a proposal to instruct them for Dewey. Two, previously elected by district conventions, are pledged to Dewey.

In Florida, a group of Byrd-for-President supporters was making a bid to carry the State's banner to the Democratic National Convention. Fragmentary reports showed that seven pledged to President Roosevelt and five pledged to Byrd were leading.

In Indiana, the State's 11 congressmen—nine Republicans and two Democrats—appeared assured of renomination.

Clubbed Bandit Flees From Cab

Another taxicab bandit was sought by police today following the attempt of a masked gunman to rob Rocco Lamartina, 29, of Webber st., Roxbury, in his cab on Blue Hill ave., Roxbury.

Pretending to reach for his wallet, Lamartina grabbed a small club instead and struck his assailant across the face. The bandit, wearing a handkerchief mask, fled.

Tito's Forces Take 3 Towns

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Yugoslav Partisans have captured two towns north and northeast of Zagreb, capital of Croatia, but an Axis drive west of Zagreb has forced them to withdraw in several places, Marshal Tito's headquarters said today.

A broadcast identified the captured towns as Bednja, 40 miles northeast of Zagreb, and Columbus, 25 miles north of the city, which was hammered recently by Allied bombers.

On other sectors, Partisans captured Bjelopolje, in Sanjak, 40 miles northwest of the Albanian border, killing 200 Axis troops, and destroyed a troop train in Dalmatia, killing 170 Germans and wounding 150, the communique said.

A German offensive in Slovenia was said to be continuing.

Dorchester Flyer Awarded DFC

Two Massachusetts men, including a Dorchester flyer, have been awarded Distinguished Flying Crosses for "extraordinary achievement" during missions over Nazi-occupied Europe, the Eighth Air Force announced today.

First Lieut. Sydney Abramson, 23, of Mountain ave., Dorchester, a Flying Fortress navigator, took part in attacks on Kiel, Brunswick, Regensburg, Emden and Rostock. He already held the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

First Lieut. Albert J. Filiponis, 29, of Fitchburg, also a navigator, participated in missions over Augsburg, Kiel, Regensburg and Rostock. He also held the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Murder-Suicide Report Upset

The police theory of murder and suicide induced by liquor, in the shooting deaths of a West End taxicab driver and a Buffalo, N. Y., sailor in Brintree on April 20, was upset today when a medical report disclosed no signs that the sailor had been drinking.

Dr. Robert R. Ryan, Weymouth medical examiner, announced that analysis of vital organs of Sailor Howard Joseph Smith, 20, showed no trace of alcohol. He could not determine cause of the sailor's death until police completed investigation of the case.

Detectives were working on the theory that Smith shot and killed Charles V. Lisitano, the taxicab driver, and then took his own life while under the influence of liquor.

Britain to Loan China 200 Million

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced today the signing of agreements under which Britain will loan China up to 20,000,000 pounds ($200,000,000) and supply her with military equipment on a lend-lease basis.

Eden also told Commons that detailed arrangements for the administration of liberated France were now being worked out by Gen. Eisenhower and Brig.-Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, head of the French military mission in Britain.

Uphold Empire, Churchill Plea

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—A major reason for the British Commonwealth conference now in progress in London, declares Prime Minister Churchill, is to "make all the watching world realize" the British Empire "stands together, woven into one family of nations, capable of solving our common problems."

"It is right," he told the Empire premiers in welcoming them to No. 10 Downing st., "that the British Empire in its collective aspect should put itself solidly on the map."

Churchill's Monday speech, made public today, said he did not expect that "in the heat of war we shall reach complete solution of all problems that confront the British Empire and vex mankind, but it's high time we got around the table to exchange views and ideals."

Dog Track Pleas Due Tomorrow

With the presentation of testimony concluded, attorneys today were preparing briefs and final arguments over the petition of the Hancock Racing Ass'n to compel the state racing commission to grant it a permit for dog racing.

The Hancock Ass'n likewise seeks to have the licenses for dog racing at Revere, Dighton and Raynham tracks revoked, so that the Hancock application for dates at a track near Pittsfield can be reconsidered.

As testimony closed, Judge John E. Swift of Suffolk Superior Court said he would hear final arguments in the case tomorrow.

Witnesses followed the line of testimony of previous days of the hearing, again reporting high salaries paid to officers of the various racing associations in Massachusetts.

8 Dead, 33 Hurt In Texas Flood

By the Associated Press
Flood waters of the Mississippi river were receding last night as far south as Cape Girardeau, Mo., but elsewhere in the mid-west and southwest the threat of high water was mounting.

In central and eastern Texas, the toll had risen to eight dead, 33 injured and one missing following torrential rains, hail and heavy winds.

In western Missouri the Osage river swirled out of its banks after further rains Monday night. For 300 miles from the Kansas border to the river's confluence with the Missouri, the danger was serious.

Siamese Twins Still Battle Against Death

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 3 (AP)—Doctors say they can't possibly live, but the tiny, blonde Stierly Siamese twins continued to wage a stubborn battle against death today.

Isolated in the nursery of the Phoenixville Hospital where they were born Sunday, their little hearts beating 150 to 160 times a minute, the girls won a momentary fight against a temperature of 104. Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals said both appeared hungry early today and were fed a condensed milk formula—the large one with a bottle and the small one with an eye dropper. Later their temperature dropped to 103.

"Without the oxygen she is getting from her sister the smaller child could not survive," the physician said.

"It is a strain on the stronger and larger girl, and both are sinking fast. They cannot live."

Dr. Gotwals said he expected the smaller child to die first and the other girl to follow shortly after.

Mrs. Mary Stierly, the 24-year-old mother of the twins, saw her babies for the first time yesterday.

Mrs. Stierly is "very depressed, although her physical condition is good," Dr. Gotwals said.

Killed by Backing Truck

FARMINGTON, N. H., May 3—Funeral services were planned today for Harry A. Burleigh, 78, victim of an unusual accident in the driveway of his Orange st. home. He was instantly killed when struck by a truck which was backing up an incline to deliver firewood to his house, police reported.

School for Boys Called Firetrap

SPRINGFIELD, May 3—More than 50 fatally defective boys and 22 employees at the Belchertown State School are living in a 200-year-old firetrap, Supt. Harry L. Padgell told touring members of the Legislature here today.

Several fires there have menaced the lives of inmates and they have been imperiled in their sleep by falling ceilings, he declared.

The superintendent's assertions were made to members of the special legislative commission on State employees' grievances and maintenance. Vice-Chairman Henry L. Shattuck of Boston headed the group.

Padgell told them he had called the fire menace situation to the attention of the emergency public works commission, but had been turned down in his efforts to protect the mental defectives and employees.

CONDEMNED BUILDING

Mrs. Rhoda McKinnon, matron, told the legislators the structure was "a mess." Its construction would make it difficult to evacuate the inmates promptly in an emergency, she said.

Following its tour the special commission held a hearing here at City Hall, where Rep. Ralph Lerche of Northampton denounced conditions at the Northampton State Hospital and attacked the administration of Dr. Arthur N. Ball, superintendent.

"Ball, as well as many other superintendents of state institutions," charged Lerche, "are opposed to Civil Service because they want to promote their pets. Northampton is operated by trustees like other state institutions—in theory."

"As a matter of fact the trustees have lost their power. They just say, 'yes' to the superintendent. They make a visit, the superintendent feeds them lobster salad and strawberry shortcake, then they go home. They are valueless."

FAVORITISM CHARGED

Lerche urged abolishment of the present trustee system. He recommended establishment of a supervisory board which would visit all institutions periodically.

In support of his charges of favoritism, he told of an employee at Northampton who stood in the food line and was given one pork chop while another employee was given three. When the worker questioned the disparity the woman in charge told him "That's my brother," said Lerche.

He said telephone operators are forced to eat their meals at the switchboard and one girl had to stretch during a minor emergency.

Declaring favored employees have all holidays off and others are given no holidays, he said:

"If these conditions existed in a private enterprise they would be investigated by the State Department of Labor. If girl employees had to work in a private enterprise as they do at Northampton, the industrialist would be brought into court and prosecuted."

Rush Boric Acid Labeling Law

NEW YORK, May 3—Councilman Vogel (D.) of Brooklyn, today introduced in city council his promised resolution calling on the board of health to make mandatory the labeling of all boric acid containers, "caution—poison," and the measure was referred to the city affairs committee for immediate action.

It is expected the resolution recommended by the Mirror and other Hearst newspapers—urging amendment of the municipal sanitary code—will be passed by the council May 15.

Chairman DiGiovanna, of the committee, said he regarded this step to guard against repetition of the New London Hospital poison baby deaths so important that he would call his group together for the first time this year to pass on the Vogel resolution.

Great Grandma Fights for Girl, 6

The dramatic appeal of an 82-year-old Cambridge woman that she be appointed guardian of her six-year-old great granddaughter was weighed against arguments of the child's war working mother by Middlesex Probate Judge George M. Poland today.

Insisting she was accustomed to doing a full day's work in her home and was entirely capable, Mrs. Minnie A. Stone, of Harvard st., asked permanent custody of the child who has been in her home since last May. The girl's mother, Mrs. Evelyn A. Stone, of Peabody, a Lynn General Electric Co. employee, opposed the elderly woman's petition.

The mother and father, John F. Stone, now a second class machinist's mate in the Seabees, brought cross divorce petitions last January but the decree was withheld pending the outcome of the custody battle.

The great-grandmother testified she had become greatly attached to the child. She declared that the girl's mother, who left her home last fall to live in Peabody to be near her war plant work, scolded the child frequently and often was absent from the house over weekends.

Saltonstall Allows Outdoor Fire Permits

Despite restrictions imposed by law on outdoor fires during May, fire officials are authorized by an executive order of Gov. Saltonstall to issue fire permits.

In issuing his proclamation, the Governor pointed out that burning of debris and clearing land for crop production will help the war effort.

Ward Election O. K. Dirty Deal, Says CIO

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—A spokesman for the CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail Employees today denounced the decision by the National Labor Relations Board to conduct an election among employees at the government-controlled Montgomery Ward & Company within seven days as "a dirty deal."

Miss Myrna Siegfend, publicity director for the union involved in a dispute with Ward's and its chairman, Sewell L. Avery, which led to Army-supported government seizure of the Chicago properties last week, said:

"Of course we'll protest. There's a reign of terror at the plant right now. Although the government has taken over, the union contract has not been extended, discharged strikers have not been reinstated, grievances have not been settled."

"To hold an election on such short notice and in such an atmosphere is ridiculous, an utter violation of all NLRB precedents."

Meanwhile, the government-company legal fight over the right of the President to order seizure of the properties ended in federal court, with Federal Judge William H. Holly announcing he would give his decision next Monday.

Francis Heisler, union attorney,

Meow?

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Dr. L. B. Schwartz feared he was going to have motor trouble when he started his car and heard a mild squeak.

After driving for 15 minutes he stopped his car, lifted the hood and discovered the cause of the squeak—a gray alley cat wedged between the radiator and the fan belt.

The Anti-Cruelty Society—not a mechanic—was called and removed the cat. One front paw was mangled.

asserted there had been an oral understanding, after a hearing here by a NLRB trial examiner, that the election would not be ordered before May 31 or later than June 7.

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Separate Senate and House investigations of the government's troop seizure of the Montgomery Ward & Co. Chicago properties took shape rapidly today as demands echoed in Congress for legislative restrictions against such confiscations.

One investigating group, a Senate judiciary subcommittee headed by Senator McCarran (D.) of Nevada, arranged an initial meeting today and announced Atty.-Gen. Biddle and Ward Chairman Sewell Avery would be among witnesses called for public hearings starting next week.

In the House, leaders cleared the way for a vote tomorrow or Friday on a resolution that would set up a special seven-member committee to conduct a concurrent inquiry.

End Meat Rationing Urged by Cattlemen

PRESCOTT, Ariz., May 3 (INS)—Over the vast plains and hills of the southwest, heart of the beef producing area of the United States, millions of cattle today are facing starvation or useless forced slaughter while the dinner tables of the country are short of meat, according to charges of cattle growers and officials of their organizations.

Aroused over the tragic situation, the growers say that, with their ranges stocked beyond their feed capacity, they see a repetition of the "days of 1934, when countless cattle were slaughtered on the range by the government and left where they fell."

They also see nothing but ruin for their enterprises, in addition to needlessly hungry citizens of America, and all of this they lay to "bungling" and inept bureaucrats in Washington and agencies of the present Administration.

The cattle producers explain that, at the request of the government, they are growing more beef than ever before, but that the feed supply has been choked off.

They ask—and plead—that ration points on meat be eliminated (for they claim the same conditions apply in the hog-raising areas; that "confused slaughtering quotas and regulations" that surround the packing house be eliminated, and that these requests be acted upon promptly, before the bulk of their cattle reach the market this fall.

Norman Fain of Prescott, president of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Ass'n, declares the Office of Price Administration "has placed every stumbling block possible in the way of beef production."

"Present restrictions," he says, "have made it all but impossible for the farmer or small operator to obtain a permit and butcher a few head for local consumption. Other restrictions such as butcher quotas have forced packers out of the picture so far as we (the growers) are concerned."

Press Given Thanks By Bishop Cushing

Bishop Richard J. Cushing, administrator of the archdiocese, today expressed to the Boston American the "lasting gratitude" of the Catholic clergy, religious and laity for the manner in which the death and final rites of Cardinal O'Connell were handled in publication.

In a letter to the editor of the American, he wrote:
"My Dear Friend:

"The editors of the Boston papers have merited the lasting gratitude of myself, the priests, the religious and the faithful of the Catholic archdiocese of Boston for the dignified and beautiful way in which they handled the publicity of the solemn obsequies of our beloved Cardinal Archbishop. In the name of all I thank you for this most edifying service.

"Sad though the occasion was it brought to light many beautiful memories. Among them was the fraternal, friendly spirit existing among all classes and races and creeds in this part of the country. The presses had a great part to play in the upbuilding of that exemplary spirit of love for one another, rooted in the love of Almighty God.

"Our grief in the loss of our Good Shepherd is tempered by the consolation that he now enjoys the eternal blessings that God promised to faithful stewards. We die and a candle light is extinguished. We enter heaven and billions of lights glow for us for all Eternity. This is the human way of comparing light of our earthly lives with the Eternal Light of the Beautiful Vision.

"With renewed thanks and with best personal greetings, I am

"Yours most cordially,
"R. J. CUSHING,
"Administrator."

Legion Links Vet Aid Bill To Approaching Invasion

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Imminence of the invasion of Europe makes it vitally important that the American Legion's "G-I bill of rights" for the care of returning National Comdr. Warren H. Ather-ton of the Legion declared today as the long-awaited measure re-mained stalled in committee.

High-ranking officials of the Legion and members of Congress alike made no effort to hide their disappointment over the failure of Chairman John E. Rankin of the House veterans' legisla-tion com-mittee to report the bill out as scheduled.

Because of Rankin's slow-mov-ing tactics, it is predicted that the House committee may not present its version of the rehabilitation program to the floor until tomor-row at the earliest.

Urging immediate passage of the bill, Comdr. Ather-ton declared the care of veterans of the present war is not a post-war problem, because already more than a mil-lion men and women have been discharged from the armed forces. Great as the need of these dis-charged veterans may be, the prob-lem of the immediate future is far greater, the Legion chief said.

"The big invasion of Hitler's fortress of Europe is almost upon us," he asserted. "Our casualties will rise at a terrific rate as the fighting expands on all our war fronts. Our bill provides for the expansion of hospital facilities and medical personnel so that America can take care properly of her wounded men and women." Legion officials, here for the national meeting of the Legion executive committee, voiced hope that they would see the G-I bill reported to the floor of the House for action before they adjourn.

FOR ALL PLYMOUTH, DODGE, DESOTO AND CHRYSLER OWNERS IN

and vicinity

That car of yours is a mighty fine vehicle, you know. Surely you want to keep it in tip-top shape . . . especially because the average person may not be able to buy a new car for several years. To protect your investment, let the man who KNOWS YOUR CAR — your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer — help you care for it. But dealers' shops are often filled early in the day, so don't wait until the last minute. Phone him ahead of time for an appointment.

A little water cleans away mud and road-scum . . . helps pre-serve car's finish.

A dab of paint on fender and body scars helps prevent rust and deteriora-tion.

A bit of oil on squeaking door hinges or other moving parts less-ens wear.

A "breath" of fresh air in tires keep pressure uniform lengthens tire life.

Want to Sell Your Car?

Your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chry-sler dealer has prospects waiting for good used cars. If you want to sell your car you can avoid delay and tedious paper-work by letting him make you a cash offer.

WARTIME JOBS with a FUTURE

Most automobile dealers are today han-dling an increased volume of work. Many need additional skilled and unskilled help to maintain essential transportation. If in-terested see your nearby Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer.

- 1 Drain anti-freeze (save if possible), flush and tighten cooling system.
- 2 Have engine tuned for warm weather driving.
- 3 Remove all dents and rust spots. Touch up with paint.
- 4 Clean chrome of all rust. Cover spots with clear lacquer.
- 5 Wash and polish car to remove road scum. Wax for protection.
- 6 Have brake system checked and neces-sary adjustments made.
- 7 Clean the upholstery and floor mats. Install seat covers for protection.
- 8 Check front wheel alignment and ro-tate tires if necessary.
- 9 Lubricate entire car; change engine, transmission, differential lubricant.
- 10 Tighten entire car.

Suggestion to Repair Shops

Aid to Polish Priests Rebuffed by Soviets

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—The story of unsuccessful efforts to send Catholic priests from the United States to Russia, to bring relief to Polish priests in exile there, was told today by the Right Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Ready, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Msgr. Ready was asked to reveal his story, in view of the recent action of the State Department in approving the trip to Russia by Rev. Stanislaus Gromanski of Springfield, Mass. In this case, Fr. Gromanski, a Polish-American priest, was given official assistance, including passport and transportation.

"But when we tried to send a small delegation of priests to Russia in 1942," said Ready, "we were rebuffed."

SEEKS RELEASES

He explained that the purpose of that mission was to secure the release of Catholic priests who had been sent from their own country to Russia when Poland was divided between Russia and Germany in 1939.

Or, if this was not possible, the mission would attempt to rehabilitate them as priests, to perform ecclesiastical functions for Polish refugees and other Catholics in the same area.

The monsignor revealed the details of this effort in explanation of his bitter comment on the Orleans incident which he termed a "political burlesque."

"The incident, naturally, has aroused a great deal of speculation, and a lot of us who have tried heretofore at the State Department to get worthy priests to Russia would like to know the exact part our own government had in the performance," he said. Still other efforts, Msgr. Ready explained, were made to assist the Polish priests exiled in Russia. The American Red Cross was asked to send relief in the form of clothing, medicines and religious supplies.

Annual Herring Run Starts at Weymouth

The annual herring run was on today at Alewife Brook in Weymouth with veteran fishermen predicting that the yearly heira of the bony but tasty fish to their fresh water spawning grounds would be in full swing by the weekend.

Arrival of the alewives—a ration free main dish—was hailed gleefully by many point-poor families.

A REPORT TO THE NATION

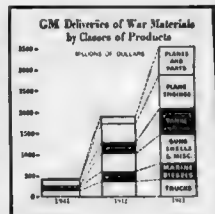

on General Motors 1943 War Activities

- ★ Physical volume of war materials produced was more than double that of 1942.
- ★ Total value of 1943 war production more than 3 billion, 500 million dollars.
- ★ Average total employment 448,848, an all-time high.
- ★ Total payrolls more than 1 billion, 300 million dollars—up 54%.
- ★ Materials and services purchased from others approximately 1 billion, 900 million dollars—up 88%.
- ★ Net income after taxes from manufacturing operations—3½ cents per dollar of sales.

GENERAL MOTORS 1943 deliveries of war material rose to a total value of more than 3½ billion dollars, or about 87% more than in 1942. The increase in physical volume was even greater, since unit prices were reduced during the year. Deliveries of service parts and other authorized civilian material amounted to $250,000,000, a decrease of about 30% from 1942.

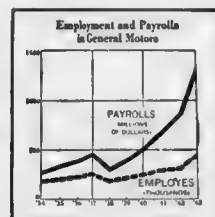

At the time of Pearl Harbor, G.M. deliveries of war products were at a rate of two million dollars' worth a day. By the end of 1943 the daily rate was above twelve million dollars. The 2,300 separate items placed in production ranged from small and delicate parts to airplane engines, complete airplanes, tanks, and powerful Diesel engines for submarines and landing craft.

AVERAGE EMPLOYMENT in General Motors in 1943 was 448,848, an all-time high. The figure stood at 503,749 in December. In 1942, the yearly average was 314,144, and the December figure was 391,975. Thus the increase in yearly average was 43%. At the same time, payrolls rose 54%, and reached a total of about 1½ billion dollars.

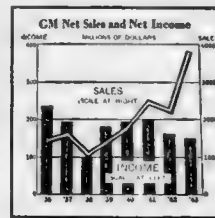

More than 200,000 new G.M. employees were trained for war work in 1943. Enrollment in courses for supervisors and executives totaled 21,500.

The percentage of working time lost because of accidents was less in 1943 than ever before.

TOTAL NET INCOME after taxes in 1943 from war output and other sources was $149,780,088, compared to $163,651,588 in 1942 and $201,652,508 in 1941. Net income after taxes from manufacturing in 1943 was only 3½ cents per dollar of total net sales.

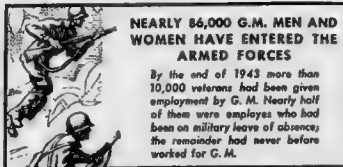

93% of all war material delivered to the end of 1943 was manufactured under fixed-price contracts. General Motors early adopted the policy of reducing prices to the government as lower costs were achieved through greater experience. The government benefited many millions of dollars by these reductions in 1943. Taxes in 1943 totaled $308,068,000, of which federal taxes were $254,783,000; social security and unemployment insurance taxes, $39,263,000, and state and local taxes, $14,022,000. Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in 1942, $3.75 in 1941 and 1940, $3.50 in 1939.

The year 1943 was one of great effort and sound achievement in General Motors. The job is not yet done. All are determined to contribute to the utmost toward final victory. When this is accomplished, there will be the task of preparing for the requirements of peace. But until that time "Victory is Our Business!"

IN 1943 GENERAL MOTORS FACTORY EMPLOYEES submitted 123,000 written suggestions for improving production or working conditions. 25,400 ideas were accepted. Cash value of war bond and stamp awards for same, $955,000.

NEARLY 86,000 G.M. MEN AND WOMEN HAVE ENTERED THE ARMED FORCES

By the end of 1943 more than 10,000 veterans had been given employment by G. M. Nearly half of them were employees who had been on military leave of absence; the remainder had never before worked for G. M.

Hair Should Mirror Your Personality

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

AMID ALL the confusion about this and that hairdo . . . and what does and does not constitute head smartness . . . now comes a New York hair styling artist who tosses to the wind all the current hair raves . . . and insists a gal is only as good-looking as her becoming hairdo.

Holding sway for three days at a swanky shop . . . this hair stylist maintains that hair must be used for facial decorative purposes in soft or sophisticated patterns . . . to intensify and electrify a woman's personality.

Flat-top? O. K. for some, he says, but not for the majority of women. . . 85 per cent of whom need the softening hairline effect to make them attractive. He frowns upon the hair styles of the moment as such . . . and insists that no woman should pursue new trends in hat and hair fads and fancies unless they suit her facial construction. No woman can be smarter than smart, he wisely points out.

This master hair mind is an artist . . . and while in the city . . . will advise and suggest to women . . . after studying and analyzing the contour of their face and head . . . the particular hairdo for them.

HAIR SHOULD BE DEFTLY CURLED

Since the hair is the only moveable feature of the head . . . it should be deftly curled and waved so as to achieve the perfect oval face . . . or an illusion thereof. Hair should be coiffured in such a manner . . . that no gal has to do handspins to comb it herself . . . for the same effect achieved by a hairdresser. It should be cut and dressed for accessibility of the wearer's own hands in repeating the smart hairdo.

If your hairdo doesn't bring out your personality . . . a visit with this interesting hair stylist would unearth a world of information for you and your head. Be sleek and sophisticated, if you wish, but be feminine in your hair-dress . . . a hairdo that will accent your best facial expression.

For the name of the shop where you may consult with this hair stylist and obtain a personal analysis of your hairdo, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4600, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR A FLATTERY HAIRDO . . . one based on a personal analysis of your features and the hair style to make you more attractive . . . visit with a New York hair stylist now in Boston to advise women on the beauty of attractive coiffures. Warner Sturlet Joan Leslie models a half hat that is flattering to a lovely head of hair.

Sandwiches Can Be Different--Try These

WE HAVE POPULARIZED SANDWICHES for every possible occasion, from the mammoth three-deckers that form a meal in themselves to the dainty, wafer-thin accompaniments to a tea table or cocktail party.

It's easy to get into the habit of making the same sandwich fillings every day--forgetting that even the mixtures which were prime favorites in the beginning soon lose their appeal when they turn up too often in the lunch boxes.

Peanut butter is one of the most popular and certainly one of the most nourishing of all sandwich spreads, but even the most rabid enthusiast will perk up when he bites into a peanut butter plus sandwich. And there's no excuse for a lack of variety as far as this particular filling is concerned, because it blends so well with so many things.

For instance, have you ever tried spreading one slice of bread with protein-packed peanut butter, the other with mayonnaise, and putting them together with a couple of slices of raw tomato in between? It's a real treat. So is peanut butter mixed with chili sauce, or crisp bacon, or fresh watercress.

Try, also, a mixture of peanut butter and India relish or your own home-made pickle; or peanut butter and honey or jam, or mix it with chopped raisins.

PEANUT BUTTER AND INDIA RELISH

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup India relish
Worcestershire sauce

Mix together peanut butter and India relish, add salt and Worcestershire sauce to taste.

PEANUT BUTTER, MAYONNAISE AND TOMATO

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. mayonnaise
Salt

Sliced fresh tomatoes
Mix together peanut butter and mayonnaise and add salt to taste; spread bread with this mixture and cover with sliced tomatoes.

PEANUT BUTTER, CHILI SAUCE AND WATERCRESS

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chili sauce
Salt

Watercress
Mix together peanut butter and chili sauce and add salt to taste. Spread bread with this mixture and cover with crisp watercress.

CELERY-PEANUT BUTTER SPREAD

Sandwich bread
Bottled sandwich spread

Peanut Butter, Mayonnaise and Tomato Sandwich

Finely chopped celery Peanut butter

Slice bread $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick and remove outer crust if desired. Spread $\frac{1}{2}$ of slices of bread with sandwich spread, then sprinkle generously with celery. Spread remaining slices with peanut butter and place on sandwich spread slices, peanut butter side down. An excellent sandwich for the children's packed lunch.

OTHER SANDWICH COMBINATIONS

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup deviled ham, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup peanut butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped sweet pickle, 2 tsp. mayonnaise, bread, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup peanut butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup pickle relish, bread, butter or margarine.

Peanut butter, baked beans, pickle, salt, pepper, milk to moisten.

1 cup ground peanut brittle, whole wheat bread, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped pitted dates, bread, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped seeded raisins or dates, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter, 2 tsp. lemon juice, 2 tsp. water, bread, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped pitted, cooked prunes, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter, 2 tsp. lemon juice, 2 tsp. prune juice or water, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup orange marmalade, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter, bread, butter or margarine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peanut butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup marshmallow cream, bread, butter.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—Yesterday, Admiral Brown, General Watson, my daughter and I attended the funeral of Secretary Knox. I know of nothing more impressive than a military funeral. The spot where the Secretary lies in Arlington Cemetery is on the side of the hill and it was very beautiful there yesterday.

It must be hard for Mrs. Knox to face the future alone. No matter how many members of our family we may have, all older people must face loneliness and make their lives important to the people who are able to be around them. This I am sure Mrs. Knox will do, for she is a courageous person and young in spirit.

THE VARIOUS PROTESTANT denominations are taking a real interest in postwar planning. The Methodist Church has had a crusade known as the Bishops' crusade. The Disciples' Church, the Congregational Christian Church and the Northern Baptists are all observing special days by urging their people to take active part in informing their senators what their feelings are about the need for postwar organization.

I think it is a splendid thing for the churches to take this leadership in bringing home to people as individuals and as Christians the need to accept responsibility.

IT IS GRATIFYING to know that the Red Cross war fund has passed by $11,200,000 its minimum quota of $20,000,000. There are several hundred chapters, some of them in big cities, which have completed their work, so it is safe to say that the people of this country have recognized the fine work done by the Red Cross and have expressed in no uncertain terms their approval and continued support.

Married, But She Loves Another

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a girl of 20. I was going with a young man near my home town, but when he went into the service he didn't write to me, and I forgot about him. Now he's overseas and I received a letter from him asking me to wait for him and telling me he loved me. I was married since he left, but I haven't written and told this young man about it.

The man I married isn't expected to live long. Do you think I should write and tell Bill I am married, or should I keep it a secret until he comes home? I really do love Bill, but not my husband. (Mrs.) M. I. S.

Aren't you a bit too frightened about this entire case? The only decent thing you can do is write and tell him the truth.

Meanwhile, I hope you won't neglect your sick husband. He's the one who has my sympathy.

Army Graduation

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I expect to graduate from an Army Air Forces bombardier school in the near future, and as is the custom of the school, I have ordered printed graduation announcements to send to my relatives and friends. Will you please answer some questions for me?

1—These announcements are not personal, stating only that the class is graduating. So would it be proper for me to enclose in each announcement my personal card (printed) stating my name and new rank?

2—Should I mail these with 3-cent stamps, 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -cent stamps and envelopes unsealed, or should I mail them "free"? (As you know, the use of free mail requires the placing of my return address on the face of the envelope.)

Thank you.—L. A.

Congratulations and best wishes, sir!

1—Yes, it's the customary, and certainly the practical, way for a graduate to enclose his personal cards with graduation announcements. Your relatives and friends will need, and warmly welcome, this personal "identification" of the announcement, and the information too about your new rank. And of course they'll want to make hearty bows of congratulations and good wishes to you.

2—I suggest you mail them "free." The fact that you must write your name and return address is a great advantage in the interest of added information.

Sleeveless Jersey Popular

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE Jersey tube is about the most popular kind of sports dress among the younger set as spring gets close to summer.

Cut like a tube and made of rayon jersey from du Pont yarn, woven to look like worsted, such dresses are also sleeveless, as you can see by consulting the sample in our sketch.

This model comes from Josette Walker, who is famous for good and smart sports clothes. She chose an ice cream pink rayon jersey with white stripes for the material, and has softened the narrow tube lines a bit with tucks at the waistline. The wide bateau neckline is bordered with the material, as are the sleeveless armholes. A belt of the jersey has a woven section at the front. The Sally Victor hat is pink straw.

American Legion Lauds Hearst Papers

The National Executive Committee of the American Legion, meeting in Washington, D. C., has unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, there were many and varied bills before the United States Congress, the object of which was to provide diverse types of benefits for veterans of the present war, and

"Whereas, after careful study there was sponsored by the American Legion and introduced in the Congress a comprehensive bill known as the 'GI Bill of Rights' (now S1737), in which are incorporated provisions that will be of immediate benefit and lasting value to the service men and women upon separation from the armed services, and

"Whereas, immediately upon introduction of the American Legion's GI Bill of Rights for World War II veterans, Mr. William Randolph Hearst, his newspapers and his entire organization offered and gave fullest co-operation to the American Legion in presenting this important legislative proposal to the public: NOW, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the National Executive Committee of the American Legion, in meeting duly assembled in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, on April 29-May 1-2, 1944, extends its deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks to Mr. William Randolph Hearst for the invaluable and outstanding co-operation and the unselfish contribution that he, his organization and his newspapers have given the American Legion in support of the GI Bill of Rights for World War II veterans."

The resolution was presented by Sam Rorex, National Committeeman for the Department of Arkansas and seconded by Former Governor John Stelle, representing the American Legion of Illinois.

More Baby Clinics Needed

THE UNITED STATES will have to work hard and fast to reach a standard as good as Great Britain's on well-baby clinics.

That is the opinion of Dr. Katherine Bain, official of the Children's Bureau in Washington.

"I am told that 70 per cent of the babies in Great Britain are taken regularly to health centers," Dr. Bain says in her latest report.

"These centers are so conveniently located that no mother has to travel more than a few miles to reach one."

"As closely as we can figure, well-baby clinics, conducted by doctors at least once a month and under the supervision of State health agencies, exist in only ONE-THIRD of our countries."

"As for cities, we found at the beginning of the war no well-baby clinics directed by doctors in 25 per cent of the small cities of 10,000 to 25,000 population, none in 18 per cent of the cities of from 25,000 to 100,000 population, and none in 4 per cent of the cities with 100,000 population."

Every community in the land should have at least one well-baby clinic, as Dr. Bain suggests.

Such a public service was always necessary.

The war and the resultant shortage of doctors have made it doubly necessary.

However, the absence of clinics in counties and cities should not be regarded by the bureaucrats in Washington as an invitation for them to inaugurate an infant WPA or some similar venture.

IT WOULD BE BETTER and wiser for humanitarian-minded individuals and organizations in all communities to establish these clinics with the assistance of doctors who have not gone into medical service.

A little imagination and work are all that will be necessary to give America a record of accomplishment as good as Britain's.

Dr. Bain is right when she says:

"Timely advice to mothers on how to keep babies from getting sick will save the time of doctors and nurses in this emergency."

"Well-baby clinics plus prenatal care clinics are the most potent force we can have for reducing infant mortality."

"And they do much more than a life-saving job; they give mothers individual help in raising physically and mentally healthy children."

"It is unthinkable to most of us that the opportunity for schooling should be denied any child capable of learning, whatever his condition of birth may be."

"It should be equally unthinkable that any child should be denied access to the health opportunity which well-baby clinics provide, effectively and economically."

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Whenever President Roosevelt goes out of town there is invariably a dearth of news in the capital.

This interesting phenomenon of sane-Roosevelt quiet along the Potomac long has been recognized by old Washington observers, but, for some reason which escapes me, they always have refrained from writing anything about it.

By the way, you can always tell an old Washington observer, even without a program. They go about with a spyglass clamped to the right eye—which is kept tightly shut so they won't see anything.

The only reason I can ascribe for the no-Roosevelt no-news situation is that maybe the heads of government do not do or say anything without the big boss being present to give his okay, on the obviously sound theory that it is not sporting to hang a bureaucrat for something he hasn't said or done.

I am probably of a nasty, suspicious nature—and I do not wish to hear any one of you little hellhounds mutter, "What do you mean, probably?" But I also have contracted a sneaky notion—I don't know from where—that President Roosevelt does not encourage his boys to say anything until he has had a chance to say it first.

I MAY BE away off base, but I have always sort of felt that a good way to remain permanently on the New Deal payroll is to wait until the head Raj takes a stand and then echo it. For the benefit of purists among my readers I am quite aware that you cannot echo a stand—but neither can you smell a rat and then nip it in the bud, which I have heard some anti-New Deal congressmen say they have done.

There have been big New Dealers in the past who stopped echoing Mr. Roosevelt and the next thing they knew they had also stood being Postmaster General, and even chairman of the Democratic National Committee. This may have been sheer coincidence but I will bet there is a fellow in New York named James A. Farley who suspects there was something more to it.

It also may be coincidence that news languishes when the President goes away. But here again I find a dissenting voice. The voice is that of Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, and this is what it said:

"I have often noted this amazing phenomenon myself, but I cannot say I am baffled by it. President Roosevelt is not what you would call a retiring type; in fact, I do not think it is going too strong to say that he likes to be heard."

"And he does not like to use old material; he likes to say things first."

"Another thing: there is little or no policy-making when F. D. R. is not working. The probable reason for this—and please do not bother it correct me if I'm wrong—is that President Roosevelt is the New Deal policy."

SEN. TAFT, of course, is a Republican, and if you insist on knowing why I called only a Republican it is because I am a biased rebel. I trust this will stop all argument—and, remember, I said it first.

Incidentally, Sen. Taft is no longer a candidate for President. He and Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, made impromptu speeches on the subject, "How It Feels Not to Be Running for President," at a Gridiron Club party recently. But six strong men grabbed me and took away my pencil and notebook, so—having no notes—I cannot report what they said.

But, I recall it was very interesting in fact, astounding. Most government heads will not even admit the possibility that there might be news when the President is out of town. I ran into Judge Marvin Jones, the war food administrator, yesterday and asked him what I thought was a very cagey question.

"What's new," I said. Judge Jones acted as if he had never heard such a thing before. "News?" he echoed. "I do not know anything new. Oh, yes, there was something—I was on the Fibber McGee program."

"That was several weeks ago," I reminded him. "I heard you, and, of course, was heartily impressed by it. But something must have happened since then?"

"It could be," said Judge Jones, tearing himself away. "If I see Mollie I'll ask her."

NATURALLY, I cannot tell you where the President has been spending his time out of town; or rather, I can tell you but I see no point in spending a hot summer in front of a firing squad. But I have one definite piece of information I can pass on.

Wherever Mr. Roosevelt has been sojourning he took his own bottled water with him.

I know this positively because he always takes his own bottled water wherever he goes. He even took a supply to Tehran.

It so happened that Winston Churchill wasn't feeling so good and F.D.R. suggested it might be the water. He offered some of his supply, but Britannia's Prime Minister declined abruptly.

"You know very well," Churchill said in hurt and reproving tones, "that I never drink water!"

that office. However, several star gazers have stated the United States will have a woman President in 1952.

CRITICISM: A writer on the subject of how-to-bring-up-a-child says parents should not be too critical of their "teen age" children, as this tends to give a youngster an inferiority complex. Seems good advice. But how about "teen age" children not being too critical of their parents? Especially female children? Still, criticism of the youthful members of the family has its advantages. It is said mothers with "teen age" daughters are always better dressed and in more youthful fashion than those who have all sons. Not only that, it is also claimed the fathers of a family of daughters are better dressed than those who have only sons. Daughters usually keep after their father to spruce up and look snappy and youthful.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Jockey Atkinson, weighing 96 pounds, was rejected for military service as being underweight. Too bad. However, he was told to report back to his draft board if he gained weight. No doubt Atkinson will now go on a weight gaining diet and can get into the service and do his bit like Basil James and other jockeys in the forces. Wonder who is the lightest man in the armed services. Any nominations from your outfit?

PASSING BY: Lola Lane, Hollywoodian. Has been married three times. Is about to dissolve her third marriage. A good-looking girl like Lola won't stay out of circulation long. So it is probable she will marry a fourth time. Several cinema actresses have been married four times, but so far none has equalled Peggy Hopkins Joyce's record of five marriages. . . . Belle Baker. HOLLYWOOD, May 3—Two department store biggies are headed for Hollywood and picture making. Al Bloomingdale, of the Bloomingdale family, and Frank Rothschild, of the Chicago Rothschilds, both of whom own big stores, have united to produce "Allah Be Praiseed."

Bloomingdale angeloed it when it was produced as a Broadway show and he has induced Rothschild to form an independent producing company with him to film it.

Patricia Morrison, star of the New York show, will head the movie cast. With the big bank-roll back of them, Messrs. Bloomingdale and Rothschild should have no trouble in getting a release, especially if they make a good picture.

Calvert, who has had experience all over the world as a stage actor, makes his movie debut in the romantic heavy of Dumas "Fighting Guardsman," and my guess is you'll be knowing his name and face very soon.

"It's a wonderful story," exactly what I have been praying for. The cast, too, is excellent—Franchot Toms and Thomas Mitchell. The picture goes before the cameras almost any day now with Andre de Toth directing.

Hundreds of telephone calls and notes have gone to "Bill," as her friends call her, in her bereavement—people who worked at the old Comopolitan picture studio, friends who knew Winnie when he was one of the top cameramen. The body arrived from Washington with a full military escort and the funeral will be held today at 417 North Maple Drive, Beverly Hills.

LUCY COCHRANE, according to one of her friends, has been receiving letters from Victor Mature and he has been seeing her whenever he is on leave in New York. Just in case you are saying "who is Lucy Cochrane?" Well, she's a Boston heiress who made her stage debut as a show girl in "The Ziegfeld Follies." Now she has been promoted to the ingenue lead in Billie Burke's play, "Mrs. January and Mr. X," having taken Barbara Bell Gables' place. I met Lucy when I was in New York and she is an extremely pretty girl. David Selznick, by the way, has asked his representative to make a test of her.

SNAPSOTS OF HOLLYWOOD AT RANDOM: Jennifer Jones leaves a week from today for Reno to get her divorce from Robert Walker; Betty Hutton has been dating Charles Martin, to whom she was engaged last year; Lady Mendl entertained last night for Maimbocher, who is her house guest. The party started at 10:30 and those who didn't have to work stayed until a late hour; Roddy McDowall and his mother on the train coming from Portland. I had been at Wynton and they had been on location. The country is so beautiful in the northern part of California and Oregon. Mt. Shasta is a curtain of white snow and here and there snow nestles under trees at the foot of the majestic mountain; Michael O'Shea has turned cowboy and is helping with the roundup at Joel McCrea's ranch; Renee de Marco is trying to get out of her current show, "Slap Happy," so she and her baby can join her husband, Jody Hutchison, who has a Warner contract; Harry James opens at the Astor the middle of the month. He will be joined by Betty Grable May 19. Mae Sunday will go East with her, since Harry has several stops to make. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Les Brown Band On Boston's Bill

RKO Boston's new stage show starting tomorrow co-headlines Les Brown and his famous orchestra and Virginia Weidler, star of stage and screen. Alfred Hitchcock's production of "Lifeboat," starring Tallulah Bankhead and a line supporting cast, will be the film feature.

Featured with Brown are "Butch" Stone, Doris Day and Gordon Duke. Virginia Weidler, the screen's beloved tomboy, is now a charming young lady in her teens who has joined the Hollywood glamour girls. A veteran of the films such as "The Youngest Profession" and "Best Foot Forward," Virginia believes that she will leave her singing and dancing roles behind as stepping stones to her ambition to becoming a really accomplished actress. "Lifeboat," a suspenseful film dramatization of John Steinbeck's famous book, tells the gripping story of six men and three women adrift in mid-Atlantic in a lifeboat—survivors of a torpedoed ship.

Pops Triumphantly Begins Its 59th Season

By JOYCE DANA

From Bach to Bodge, from Prokofieff to "Anchors Aweigh," Boston's Pops embarked on its 59th season at Symphony Hall with all the traditional pomp and circumstance including the Elgar opening march.

This is Arthur Fiedler's 15th season as conductor, and the diversity of his programs, which include favorites for everybody, has consistently enhanced the reputation of these unique events on our musical calendar.

This year's opening runs true to form, with the 85 players of our Symphony Orchestra lending their finest, with light refreshments available at the floor tables, and with the hall decked out for spring.

From the Elgar march, Mr. Fiedler proceeded to Weber's "Freischütz" Overture, to the lilting Prokofieff Gavotte from the classical symphony and to the Strauss "Voices of Spring" waltzes. All standard fare, and all enthusiastically received by the opening night capacity audience.

It couldn't be 1944 without a medley from "Oklahoma!" the musical which had its premiere in Boston and went on to gather new laurels and keep the ticket agencies and Messrs. Rodgers and Hart happy in New York. It's still a smash hit, and such singable tunes as "People Will Say We're In Love" and "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top" are likely to be among this year's winners at the Pops.

Leo Litwin is soloist for tonight's program in Addinsell's

"Warsaw Concerto." The Gypsy Dance from "Carmen," Schubert's "Valse Triste" and the William Tell Overture are among the other program treats.

Hartman Show Seats on Sale

Seats go on sale tomorrow at Plymouth box office for the Monday evening premiere and subsequent performances of "Same Time Next Week," the Searle Kramer comedy with Paul and Grace Hartman which Milton Berle and Andrew Billings are presenting . . . Importantly featured are Robert H. Harris, Arnold Strang, Gerry Carr, William Jeffrey, Joe Verdi, Louise Lormer, Tom McElhany, Catherine Cameron and others . . . Franklin Heller staged the play, which has a set by Frederick Fox.

"Stovepipe Hat," the new American musical by Frederick Han- n, Edward Heyman and Har- old Spina, comes to the Shubert on Monday evening, May 22, for a two-week engagement prior to its Broadway opening. It is being presented by Irving Gaumont and Carl E. Ring, well-known New Englanders. Robert Ross, who staged "Foxy and Bess," is directing "Stovepipe Hat."

The cast of 100 includes Fred- erick Tozere, Mary Roche, Made- leine Clive, Bob Kennedy, Parker Fennelly, Liam Dunn, Joy Gelfen, Marsha Norman, Joan Chan- dler and Faege Springman. An Eva Jessye Choir augments the company.

HELMUT DANTINE imperson- ates brilliantly one of the Devil's Island convict-patriots in "Passage to Marseille," the Michael Curtis-directed thriller which goes into its second week on the Met screen tomorrow.

Russian Film At Memorial

"No Greater Love," a stirring tribute to real heroines, moves into the Keith Memorial Theater to- day as a second feature with the holdover, "Up In Arms" . . . The film follows the exploits of a Rus- sian woman who became a guerrilla leader in the present war against Germany . . . Her deadly ambushes for Nazi patrols and plots for the destruction of enemy railroad trains are drawn from official reports and military re- cords.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Katharine Hepburn's visit to Detroit may result in a page one story . . . The Judy Garland-David Rose divorce will be amicable. He's been persuaded not to contest the suit . . . Wild rumors have the Lindbergh kidnapping case breaking into the headlines again, with a "new theory" . . . Jack Topping has bestowed a dazzling aquamarine ring on Jane Randolph, his newest lovely . . . Gypsy Markoff will bring a $250,000 suit against the airline company for injuries she received in the Lisbon clipper crash. She's undergone 14 operations so far . . . Louis Hayward, Ida Lupino's actor husband, has been given an honorable discharge from the Army. He'll return to the cinema in June.

XAVIER CUGATS' estranged bride dropped into town the other day on a surprise visit. Now they're confabbing . . . Rene De Marco has spent $2500 repairing the damage done to her beauty when a Chicago hairdressing establishment burnt off her hair during a permanent wave. She's pretty again—but with a "windblown" coiff . . . Margie Hart, the strip queen, has turned singer for her own amazement. Very good, too, they say . . . Azradia Newman and Rouben Mamoulian have resumed . . . Noel Coward is scheduled to visit the U. S. again some time this summer . . . Mayor LaGuardia is readying a racial expose of—heavens!—Juke boxes. Will claim they contribute to juvenile delinquency.

MARIA JERITZA, who retired from opera eight years ago, will sing again this week for the first time since her farewell bow—for the soldiers and sailors at the Hollywood Canteen . . . Capt. Clark Gable must be really mad about Kay Williams. She's got him going to night clubs—which he always hated . . . There's an unpremeditated howl in one sequence of Betty Grable's "Pin-Up Girl" unless they cut it after the preview audience shrieked . . . Fannie Brice is happy over some good news. She won't need that major operation after all, a hospital check-up revealed. The late John Barrymore's possessions included several short stories which he'd written. Lionel will offer them for publication . . . Armando's has built a little doghouse in the hat checkroom—just for Mary Jane Walsh's bow-wow.

CONSSENSUS in Washington is that the night club tax will be slashed from the present 30 per cent to 15. And the Treasury will wind up with more revenue . . . Marcolia Hendricks, who isn't famous, rates several bows for the way she handles her Army camp stunts. After her songs she makes little speeches telling the boys not to worry about their sweethearts at home being true to them. Sounds corny to you, but the soldiers say it's a wonderful morale builder . . . Lieut. Comdr. Joel Pressman, Claudette's husband, has received his overseas orders. She's taken an apartment in Oregon to be near him until he leaves . . . True love item: Nan Wynn has given up the singing spot on "Duffy's Tavern" to the groom, Cy Howard. The smart girl has figured out that true love is more fun than money . . . Hal Wallis came East to huddle with Wall Streeters who may back him in an independent film company. He recently divorced Warner Brothers . . . Peggy Milne, the ingenue, waltzed down the aisle with Corp. Dakin Cochrane a week ago. He was the radio-scribbler . . . The Charlie Morrisons are making another try at reconciling Lana Turner and Steve Crane. They succeeded once . . . Joe E. Brown, the comic who's become the idol of the AEF, will do a weekly solo broadcast to servicemen via the Army overseas network.

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, May 3.—Marlene Dietrich and Noel Coward met in North Africa, and they talked about a musical show in which Coward wants Marlene to appear . . . Thomas Mann and Paramount are about to sign contracts for the filming of his "Joseph" trilogy . . . When Ethel Barrymore completes her road tour in "The Corn Is Green," she returns to RKO to play in "Enter Madame" . . . Warners is dickering for the Harry Harvey novel, "School For Eternity," which will have an all big name cast. Joan Crawford is anxious to play the role of the actress, Rosa . . . Phyllis Brooks and Capt. H. McCoun are a romance.

Phyllis Brooks

MARIA MONTEZ is studying ballet dancing with Lester Horton . . . Zachary Scott gets the role in "Strangers in Our Midst" that Paul Lukas wouldn't play, because he didn't want any "lover" roles . . . According to Arthur Murray, a storm raged furiously outside a toy animal factory. Inside, the machines were silent. The enraged owner ran up to the foreman and asked: "Why aren't you turning out our usual quota of toy animals?" The foreman listened and then defiantly answered: "I would not turn out a dog on a night like this!"

JOAN LESLIE will have the feminine lead in "Hollywood Canteen," when Warners start reshooting the picture . . . The only thing that is holding up the Danny Kaye-Metro deal is that Sylvia Fine wants a better contract for writing his special material . . . Jack Carson will make that overseas trip with Ann Sheridan to entertain the troops . . . Thomas Mitchell and Ben Bogues are talking about "Dark Waters" . . . That Helmut Dantine-Myrna Loy dating still wouldn't interfere with Dantine going back with his wife if she said okay . . . Val Lewton is considering a version of Edgar Allan Poe's "The Gold Bug" as his next chiller . . . Rodney Pantages, manager of the Pantages Theater, says that he has had more repeat customers to see "Cover Girl" than any other picture to play his theater . . . Ann Miller and Lieut. A. C. J. are a two-some these nights.

JENNIFER JONES and Watson Webb continue to have dates . . . Pvt. Peter Van Eyck is now at Fort Riley, El Paso, Tex. . . Richard Jaeckel will enlist in the Navy now that his role in "Queen of the Flat-Tops" is completed . . . Anne Baxter tells this on herself on the set of "Guest in the House." Anne's theatrical career was halted the same day that it began. She enrolled at Maria Ouspenskaya's dramatic school, and for her first lesson Anne was supposed to walk across a bare stage holding a candle a few inches from her face. "I want the flame to remain absolutely still," Ouspenskaya told her. "Walk so slowly that it doesn't change the light of the candle. Do you understand?" "Yes," answered Anne, "but wouldn't it be a lot easier with a flashlight?"

George Holland Boston After Dark

THE OPA IS SHOWING SIGNS of interest in the Boston hotel situation . . . It seems that regulations call for maintenance of something else besides ceiling prices . . . For instance, hotels are supposed to continue to accommodate a certain percentage of permanent guests . . . In one leading hostelry, a pre-war proportion of nearly 40 per cent permanent guests has declined to the point where, at present, less than 5 per cent of the rented rooms are yielded to permanent guests.

COMPLAINTS ALSO have been registered about the alleged practice of having moot rooms classified as "double rooms" . . . A single guest will apply for a room, "his said, and the clerk will inform him that nothing is available except a double room, and that the charge—within the ceiling price, of course—is $6.60 a day . . . Should two strange guests appear in quest of accommodations, rooms are available and again they are "double rooms" . . . But frequently these double rooms have a large single bed only . . . And they are rented at the double room rate, $7.75 per diem and up.

SPEAKING OF HOTELS, the super-luxury Mount Washington Hotel, most famous of the New Hampshire resort inns, has been bought by a Boston syndicate including William Stoneman, the financier . . . This is not news, although it perhaps has not seen print locally . . . That the famous hotel has been booked solidly, however, from July 1 through the summer at rates of from $24 to $48 a day is, perhaps, news . . . And that Hildegarde, the great chanteuse, is under negotiation as the hotel's opening attraction.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Lucy Cochrane, Boston's most publicized post-deb, stepped into the ingenue lead of "Mrs. January and Mr. Ex" on Monday night . . . Miss Cochrane understudied the role when the Billie Burke-Frank Craven vehicle was playing here last month . . . "Pick-up Girl" has been valued at $250,000 in its first definite motion picture offer, with Mike Todd turning it down . . . It is the largest pre-Broadway run bid for a play since Todd's "The Naked Genius" was sold down the river for $350,000 last September, again before its New York opening . . . Sheila Barrett, Artie Dam and Mervyn Nelson shared applause honors at the Mayfair's theatrical guest night . . . Miss Barrett revealed that the most interesting incident of her Boston engagement took place a few hours previously at the Renaissance Room . . . An Army captain sought her out . . . "I think I should tell you, Miss Barrett," the captain said, "that I am a namesake of yours . . . My name is John R. Barrett . . . But my daughter is altogether a namesake . . . She is four and we named her 'Sheila' after hearing a broadcast of yours entitled 'Friendship Bridge' . . . In it, you made an appeal for sympathy and help for the young-ers of England . . . My wife and I were so inspired that we named the baby for you." Sheila's "cocktail she-inebriate," one of her sharpest satires, was greeted hilariously by a large audience at the Mayfair.

HARD-WORKING little Artie Dann has the sort of talent that stands up under the repetitive needs of frequent guest nights . . . His "You Made My Nose Too Long" number is marvelous . . . Comedy was the order of the night (or morning) at the Mayfair . . .

Asks 800,000 Pupils To Buy War Bonds

Massachusetts war finance officials today pushed efforts to have 800,000 Bay State school children turn in their war stamp books and convert them into War Bonds before the end of the present school year, thus giving the Fifth War Loan Drive a flying start.

If 500,000 of the children turn in their books, it will mean nearly $10,000,000 in Series E bonds as a "primer" for the coming drive, officials said.

Yawkey, Quinn on Lights; 'Valuable' Walrus Head

By AUSTEN LAKE

NIGHT VISION—So up jumps Mr. George W. McMurrey, who enjoys the mouthfilling title of "Chief of the War Planning Board Recreational Division" and sez, whereas both Boston major league ball clubs are inquiring about buying some night lights for their parks, it is possible that the WPB will release some of its surplus bull-bulbs and trays of electric moonlight, of which it has more than meets the National need.

This reveals the same inconsistency on the part of Bob Quinn and Thomas Yawkey as is noticed among small children who seldom want what is easy to have until it is hard to get. Because I clearly remember asking both Bob and Tom, in the pre-war time of plenty when there was no restriction on anything, why they did not do themselves a financial favor and buy night lights to give the workaday fans some nocturnal pleasure.

Both snorted an emphatic Phooie! Both said piously that baseball is a daytime game. Both hated the flood of synthetic light in the surrounding sea of darkness, the dank chill, the treacherous shadows and the half seen crowd. And now both seem willing to pay two or three times as much for what they could have had for one-half or one-third less in 1940.

GOLF'S VANISHED GYPSIES—Among the many sport casualties of war are the thousands or more of professional golfers of varying skills who used to chase the sun around the seasons but, who, except for the gifted few, never caught up with the rainbow gold. They stuck doggedly on, borrowing fresh stakes and thumbing rides from spot to spot in the simple trust that prosperity and the secret of the game was just around the corner. But few ever hit the jackpot, and at best the jackets were not large. Except for a few top rankers like Jug McSpaden, they have all vanished into that favorable figure of newspaper speech, the swirling mists of time. Tournaments are nil, transportation is scarce and by war's end, whatever smattering of skills they will have been lost through the heavy handling of their wartime occupations. But don't weep for them. Something had to nudge them out of their state of happy failure.

$400 Shipping Charge

SOUVENIR—The huge stuffed head of the bull walrus with tusks long as hoe handles that hangs in the Garden Club, atop the North station, is the same one that used to glare down in the billiard parlors at the old B. A. A. and later on the hurrying fight hordes in the corridor of the Arena. A tale hangs thereby.

For years ago Ben Hyde, a friend of the late Henry Lapham, bagged the sea monster in Labrador and wishing to play a prank, he shipped the carcass, weighing some 900 pounds and decaying from exposure to Lapham, collect express. Henry paid $400 shipping charge, $200 damages for property spoiled in transit by the mortifying cadaver, and another $600 to have the head moused. Then he gave the growly old skull with its grinning leather muzzle, shaggy whiskers and sabre teeth, to the B. A. A. where it remained for many years until bankruptcy scattered the fellowship and the contents of the club were sold for back debts. So Lapham bought the beast back, for $50, nailed it to the Arena walls and later transferred it to the Garden Club. Total cost for the beast's peregrinations, FOOTBALL'S FUTURE—Vanderbilt University has polled 150 U. S. college presidents on their prophecies of the postwar future of college football. One hundred six believe it will resume its pre-war status. Twenty-one are pessimistic. Yet one important factor that the prexies may overlook is the probability that the government will commandeer many institutions for the rehabilitation of disabled soldiers. Some educators have predicted that civilian admissions will no longer depend on the size of a father's bankroll and a dad's desire to have his kid exposed to culture. It is estimated that, before war's end, there may be three-quarters of a million such veterans who will change the complexion of the undergraduate bodies and make varsity football a minor matter. Certainly if the present trend toward government socialization continues, a civilian kid may have to obtain a postwar federal priority for higher education.

Wah-Hoo the Wrestler

O, for the touch of a vanished hand—Tutcher morning the writer bumped into young Charley Gordon, son of old Charley Gordon. It brought back whiffs of a dear dead past. For old Charley, whose real name was Faux and who now works in Fore River, was formerly the producer of lower-case wrestling shows—a fantastic person in an incredible business who added lace flourishes on life's otherwise plain, woolen underpants and who made the scene a little brighter for his being. It was Charley who once asked his performers, for signs of publicity, of course, to print pre-match affidavits which read: "I understand this bout is strictly honest and I agree to use my best efforts to throw my opponent in the shortest possible time. Furthermore, I promise not to have (pre-match) workouts with my opponent or meet or talk with him before this bout." Still one recalls that it was amiable Charley who called Joe Beston, the Quincy Gym proprietor about the same time, and said, "I've got a raw-boned Greek here. Make him over into an Indian. I'm billing him as Wah-Hoo, the American aborigine." It brings back the sniff of rosemary and lavender! Ah me!

Ex-Grid Stars Keep Naples Thugs in Line

NAPLES, April 29 (Delayed)—(AP)—Remember the old gag about the policeman whose pocket was picked by the pickpocket he was locking up? Well, the cop it happened to has been found. He's police over the 1,200,000 burghers of Naples. credits Joe personally with breaking up one of the bigger black market rings recently. "It's really been tough here," Mike tells you. "All that Chicago gangster stuff. Some of these people will steal a hot stove." They get our trucks on dark streets, make them stop by digging up some of the cobble stones, and then jump up on board, beat up the driver and grab the load. It's even worse than it was when I was provost marshal in Casablanca and Rabat."

New Cubs Pilot Blasts Novikoff, Demands Pep

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Roy "Hard Rock" Johnson, temporary successor to Jimmy Wilson as manager of the Chicago Cubs, today told Cub players that "action and hustle" would be keynotes of his scheme. Johnson, a veteran minor league pilot since 1923, used a brief but lively dressing room session to burn the ears of the Wrigley chattels with general remarks, then singled out a few individuals for more pointed comment.

"I want action!" Johnson thundered. "I want every ball player to get out and hustle like he's supposed to. I don't know how long I'll be manager, but as long as I'm boss there'll be no favoritism!"

FINGER ON NOVIKOFF

Emphasizing his determination to prove his expressed belief that the eighth-place Cubs are a better ball club than their nine-game losing streak has shown, Johnson said he wanted every man to get in shape.

"Any time a player is in better shape than the man in a position the player will be out there—no matter who he is!"

Pointing to Lou Novikoff, Johnson asked, "You want to play in the National League, don't you?" Novikoff nodded his head.

"Then why didn't you report in shape? Why aren't you ready to go out there and play right now?" Johnson demanded.

HACK ASKS BERTH

Meanwhile, Cub officials were in receipt of their first application for the managerial post. It was from Lewis "Hack" Wilson, Cub outfielder and slugger of 15 years ago. In a wire to Vice President James P. Gallagher, Wilson said: "Would appreciate your considering me as successor to your resigned manager. Await your reply."

Jimmy Wilson Coach Of Cincinnati Squad

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Jimmy Wilson, for three years manager of the Chicago Cubs, had a new baseball job today—coach of the Cincinnati Reds—a post he relinquished when he came to the Cub organization.

Wilson's appointment, coming a day after he resigned as Cub boss, was announced after a conference with General Manager Warren C. Giles and Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds.

Wilson, 43 years old and for 20 years a catcher-coach-manager in the National League, will take over his new duties in St. Louis Friday.

Eastern Loop Plans For 140 Schedule

ALBANY, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—The Eastern Baseball League launches its 22d campaign today with the prediction of President Thomas H. Richardson that it will be "an excellent race and a good season at the gates."

The clubs open their 140-game schedule with Scranton, 1943 champion, at Wilkes-Barre; Elmira, 1943 governor's cup winner, at Williamsport; Utica at Binghamton, and Albany at Hartford. Williamsport replaces Springfield.

Sox, Nats In Finale

By BILL GRIMES

For the third time in as many starts, the Red Sox were to face a knuckleball hurler today in the final game of the series with the Senators at Fenway, for Manager Ossie Bluege assigned Dutch Leonard to pitch.

The Senators were fighting mad when they came here Monday. They had dropped both ends of a twin bill to the New York Yankees at Griffith Stadium, the previous afternoon.

Just as soon as he arrived at Fenway Park, Manager Bluege announced that he would toss three knuckleball pitchers against the Red Sox. He opened up with Roger Wolfe and then came back yesterday with Johnny Niggeling.

BLUEGE LUCKY

In the opening game, Manager Bluege was lucky. Yank Terry started for the Red Sox and didn't have much more than good intentions, if he had them. In less than two innings, the Senators nicked Terry for six hits, which produced three runs. Then, Clem Hausmann took over but Terry had been such a soft touch that the rookie didn't have a chance to cool off the Nats. So, after two and one third rounds, Hausmann retired in favor of Joe Wood, Jr., son of the famous Smokey Joe, who hurled for the Red Sox 30 years ago.

Young Joe did a very good job, allowing only two hits, one of which was of the infield variety. If he had been more alert on that infield tap, which was George Myatt's fourth straight hit, young Joe would have pitched shut-out ball for the three rounds he was on the mound. Oscar Judd finished that game and he was belted for seven hits and yielded four tallies in two innings.

Then, with a grin, Mike recalls how one slick fingered specialist tagged him. "Right here in my own jail, too," he reveals. "A colonel came in and wanted to question the women we'd arrested. I took him down to their cells. When we got back my notebook was gone from my hip pocket. No sir; I didn't go back to look for it. I still had my watch."

Up to this week there have been 10,715 civilians picked up by Mike's M. P.'s since Jan. 1.

B's Hurl Javery Against Bums

BROOKLYN, May 3—Al Javery was the Braves choice today for hill duty against the Dodgers, who planned to start Fritz Ostermueller in the series windup at Ebbets Field.

Javery hoped to have better fortune than had Jim Tobin yesterday. Jim was out to repeat his no-hit win over the Brooks last week, but he was kayoed in three innings, and the Bums went on to win 7-6 in 11 innings.

Tomorrow the Braves will be back home at Braves Field, opening against the Giants in a single game.

Stainback of Yanks Fractures Right Leg

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (AP)—Outfielder Tuck Stainback of the New York Yankees broke his right leg stealing second base in the third inning of the game with the Philadelphia Athletics, Traveling Sec. Rex Weyant of the Yanks said.

Stainback was taken to Presbyterian Hospital, where the fracture was discovered above his right ankle. Later he was removed to his hotel room.

Terranova Is Here for Title Bout With Bartolo

By JACK CONWAY

PHIL TERRANOVA is back in Boston today intent upon regaining his world's featherweight championship when he clashes with Sal Bartolo of East Boston in a 15-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden on Friday night. Terranova was accompanied here by Bobby Gleason, his manager. Both confident Bartolo will lose his crown in the Garden skirmish.

Terranova will fight today and tomorrow at Sara Fien's Gym on Friend st., while Bartolo will continue to work at Harry Kelley's Gym on Hanover st.

The bout will be fought at the featherweight limit of 125 pounds. Boxing Commission Sam Smith has made arrangements for the boxers to weigh in at the Boxing Commission's office on Commonwealth ave. at noon on Friday.

Terranova and Bartolo each know they are expected to make 125 pounds. As a result, there should not be any last minute weight dispute as existed when Ralph Zaneli fought Henry Armstrong. On that occasion, Zaneli insisted he did not know he was to make 135 pounds. He was obliged to take off a couple of pounds before he entered the ring.

Dave Arata says the advance sale for the Terranova-Bartolo bout has hit the $12,000 mark. The first meeting of these speedy featherweights grossed $34,959 while the net was $30,171. There was a $4.40 top for that show.

The new 20 per cent tax on amusements has caused the Goodwin Club to establish a $5 top for the title bout. The other prices are $3.75, $2.50, $1.25. Arata says this price scale would mean a gross of $38,000 and a net of $34,000 in the event of a sellout.

Leahy's Navy Future

LIKE THE youngster who goes to some "boot" camp, Lieut. Frank Leahy does not know what plans the Navy has for him. This will probably be decided by the time the former Notre Dame football coach completes his 60-day indoctrination course that starts at Princeton on May 25.

Iowa Pre-Flight, Sampson, St. Mary's, Cal. and Bainbridge are four Navy berths that are still seeking a football coach. Iowa Pre-Flight will have the better football material. Its team should rate with Great Lakes at the top of the football list.

Leahy has confided to friends he will ask for active service. He would like to try something in the Navy other than coaching a football team, but, of course, will do as ordered.

A know of a great many ways the Navy could use a man with Leahy's genius as a leader of men to better advantage than coaching a football team. He could be sent on a tour of Navy bases where he could help set up athletic programs, and inspire thousands of youngsters by his forceful talks on athletics.

Got Results on Grid

JOE CASHMAN and this writer sat in the press box at Soldier Field, Chicago, a year ago last December and saw a typical Leahy Notre Dame team score two quick touchdowns in the early half of the third period after trailing by a score of 13 to 0 when the first half ended. Leahy always had the ability to get his players to do what seemed the impossible when the big chips were down.

Before the Seahawks game last fall, Leahy attended mass with his players in the college chapel at Notre Dame, and then led them to the grave of Knute Rockne where they said special prayers. The Irish then beat the Seahawks for old "Rock."

When Leahy took his Notre Dame team to the coast to play Southern California, he brought his young son along on the trip so that he could get to know the kind of men that have made up the great Notre Dame teams. Leahy told this story to his players between the halves when he thought the Irish could play better than they had showed in the early part of the game.

"I now want you to show my son that I was not wrong in my estimate of the courage and football ability of the men of Notre Dame."

A smashing victory was the answer of the players.

Genius like that should not be kept in any one naval base. It should be given to the men of the Navy everywhere.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 3 (INS)—Clem F. Crowe, one of the famous family of Notre Dame athletes, was appointed acting head basketball coach and assistant Detroit football coach at Notre Dame for the remainder of the war.

Crowe succeeds Edward W. Krause, who at present is a member of the Marine Corps. His appointment was announced by the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the University.

The eldest of seven brothers who starred in football and basketball at Notre Dame over a 20-year period, Crowe at present is athletic director and head basketball and football coach at Xavier University in Cincinnati. He will be given a leave of absence at Xavier, where he has been coaching since 1932.

Crowe captained the Notre Dame football team in 1925 and he was a high-scoring forward on the basketball team there before his graduation in 1926.

At Xavier his basketball team have won 93 games and lost 72. Crowe's football team scored 47 victories as against 22 defeats and one tie.

Revere Nine Misses Vets

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Losses to the armed forces have cut down the potential strength of every high school baseball team in the State, but it was never more evident to Revere backers how much the departure of three veterans to the services would hurt the team than in its loss earlier this week to Medford.

Coach Leo Shea has built another fighting team but without Pete Ventola, Sheldon Sherman and Joe Savoia, it's beginning to look as though the Beach City boys might have to be content to finish in a runner-up berth in the Greater Boston League.

Ventola, an All Scholastic back in football, was slated for shortstop until he joined the U. S. Navy. Sherman and Savoia were to give the team plenty of punching power at the plate (sadly lacking in the 12-inning, 5-4 loss to the Mustangs) while patrolling the outfield, but they both joined the Army Air Corps. And on top of that, Coach Shea lost Bernie Goldberg, a newcomer who was slated for a starting assignment until he got a job for himself.

DANGEROUS TEAM

But just as long as Revere has a Loveys (this time it's Bill) on the squad, the team will be dangerous. Steve and Earl Loveys were stars on other Beach City nines but now, younger brother Bill is out to carry on the family name in sports.

Bill has pitched three games to date, beating strong Exeter and Lowell teams, then losing to Medford. The armed forces were taking this young, 6 foot 2 inch, 175-pounder in June but mean while he's out to gain an All Scholastic rating. Pitchers just "don't come any better in high school," according to Coach Shea.

GROOMING PITCHERS

Loveys will have plenty of help on the mound with co-captain Joe DeFeo ready to pick up the resin bag anytime he's called. DeFeo, otherwise, will do the bulk of the catching although Dave Hunt and Will French have been coming along nicely as receivers. Other pitchers being groomed by Coach Savoia are Mickey Casoli, Rocco Ceroni, a pair of right-handers and southpaw Dave Hunt, who saw some service last year.

Co-Captain Joe Cornetta, a great all round player, will be at third base to steady the infield, working with Fatsy Ceroni, brother-in-law, at short; Joe DiPietro at second and Lawrence McGuigan at first. DiPietro has taken over the keystone sack while Marty Charido nurses an old football injury.

Few Dads Over 26 to Go in '44

Family Listens—Lieut. R. W. Dillard, skipper of the LST on which Johnnie David Hutchins died, recites the saga of the Congressional Medal holder while Johnnie's family listens entranced. The Hutchins family is visiting Orange, Tex., to participate in sponsoring a ship named after their hero. Associated Press Wirephoto

Chick Finds a Mom—Buddy Mangrum, 2, of Harvey, Ill., and his pet cat, Fluffy, view with concern their task of caring for a motherless chick. Fluffy, moved by the bird's lonesome chirps, brought it home to her own family of four kittens. Chick now gets a daily cat wash. Associated Press Wirephoto

Flew 30,000 Miles—Battle-wise to aerial dog-fights is "Lieut. Shortsnorter Gremlin," now back in Los Angeles with his pilot-master after flying 75 hours on South Pacific combat duty as a mascot. His log book shows 225 hours and more than 30,000 miles in the air. International News Photo
